BUILDING ORDINANCE OR LAW DISCLOSURE

Your policy includes Building Ordinance or Law coverage subject to certain terms, conditions and restrictions. This disclosure provides a description of the terms, conditions and restrictions for this coverage. This disclosure is provided for informational purposes only. It is not a part of your policy and does not affect or provide coverage, in and of itself.

Coverage and Limits.

We will pay up to the percentage of the applicable Coverage A or Coverage B stated limit, shown in the Declarations, for the increased costs that you actually and necessarily incur when you repair, replace, rebuild, demolish or remove, hereinafter "repair", covered loss or damage to the dwelling or separate structure because of or resulting from the enforcement of any building law.

- o This Coverage is additional insurance.
- o The building law must be adopted by the local government in which the dwelling is located, be in force at the time of the covered loss or damage and directly apply to the part of the dwelling or separate structure which sustained damage.
- o Enforcement of the building law must directly apply to the "repair" of:
  - that specific part of the dwelling or separate structure which has sustained damage; or
  - to undamaged parts of the dwelling or separate structure, which is "physically necessary" in the course of repairs to complete the "repair" of that part of the dwelling or separate structure which has sustained the covered damage. "Physically necessary" does not include where building law does not apply to the covered damage, but a governmental authority will not approve or permit "repair" of the covered damage unless you or anyone acting on your behalf also complies with that building law.
- o If you should rebuild the dwelling or separate structure at another location, then we will only pay in the Extension of Coverage the increased costs that you would have incurred to "repair" the dwelling or separate structure at the same location.
- o The decision whether or not a building law applies will be reviewable by a court.
- o We do not cover:
  - the actual or perceived loss in value to the dwelling or separate structure due to the requirements of any building law;
  - the cost to "repair", stabilize or otherwise restore land;
  - the costs to comply with any building law which requires an insured or others to remediate the dwelling or a separate structure, or a part thereof;
  - the increased cost to "repair" if the dwelling or separate structure is not intended for the same type of occupancy as the pre-loss event dwelling or separate structure;
  - the increased cost to "repair" the dwelling or separate structure until it is actually "repaired";
  - increased costs of construction, renovation, repair or replacement that are a result of your failure to timely undertake repairs or rebuilding of loss or damage;
  - the costs of demolition if you should fail to reasonably mitigate or "repair" loss or damage and as a result the dwelling or separate structure then becomes subject to demolition;
  - those costs of complying with any building law that you were required to comply with before the covered loss or damage, even if the building law was not being enforced, and which building law you failed to comply with;
  - those costs of complying with any building law that regulates the zoning or use of the dwelling or separate structure; or
  - those costs of conforming, correcting or remedying any original or subsequent construction, addition, modification, renovation or repair to a building or other structure which did not conform to a building law in effect

- when the construction, modification, renovation or repair was performed.
